Exercise the Rights You Fight For.

If any political party, or any other organization, should start a movement to disfranchise any class of men, there would be almost a revolution. The men who were to be denied the right to vote would fight for their rights, and they would be justified. But the rights of citizenship, which men fight for, they will not exercise. There are hundreds of men in this community who will not go to the polls on election day without importunity, and some who will be deaf to all argument and importunity. They are so well satisfied with the business conditions in the country that they will give all their time to their own personal affairs, and leave to others the public duties of protecting prosperous conditions.

The men who so neglected their public duty in 1892 were the first to complain of the result of their neglect and the first to become panic stricken at the threat of a change. It is incumbent upon every business man, every farmer and every wage-earner to join together for the common defense. They all have an equal interest in the maintenance of prosperous conditions. They have all been benefited by the return to republican policies, and they can continue prosperity by continuing the policies which brought prosperity.

For the last forty years the republican party has been only another name for a majority of the people. The majority believes in republican policies because they have prospered under those policies. In 1890 and 1892, the majority did not vote and the minority elected a democratic house and then a democratic president. The republicans who stayed at home on election day were responsible for those results. They saved an hour's time, which would have been needed to cast their votes, and they lost a year's business effort and profit. They followed the rule of saving at the spigot and wasting at the bung-hole.

The situation today is like that in 1890. The prosperity of the whole people is unrivaled. It can be continued, but a half dozen republicans who stay at home in each precinct may give the election to the minority and make the 60th congress democratic.

No man who believes in the Roosevelt administration has any right to neglect his duty on election day. The president has the power to call every able-bodied man into the army to fight, if need be. They ought to vote to maintain their own business prosperity. Every stay-at-home is a drone in the public hive. Let every man exercise the right he would fight for if there were an attempt to take it from him.

A Year of Blood.

The year 1903 will long be remembered in the home of F. N. Tacket, of Alliance, Ky., as a year of blood, which flowed so copiously from Mr. Tacket's lungs that death seemed very near. He writes: "Severe bleeding from the lungs and a frightful cough had brought me to death's door, when I began taking Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, with the astonishing result that after taking four bottles I was completely and permanently cured." Guaranteed for sore lungs, coughs and colds at W. R. Barton's drug store. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

SCIENCE

When Applied to Faulty Eyes, Works Wonders.

DR. GRIFFITH.

Chillicothe, Mo., Oct. 27, 1906.

Dr. A. V. Griffith.
Dear Doctor:—I can highly recommend your treatment for cross-eyes, as my little girl's eyes are as straight as can be, after being treated one month. She has been cross-eyed for eight years. She has not missed one day from school, nor experienced any discomfort from your treatment whatever. I will take pleasure in showing those who are cross-eyed the results of this wonderful painless cure, if they will call.

MRS. JOHN LUDWIG.

84 Hickory St.

This is just another example of what science will do, when applied to this delicate organ. Without drugs or operation, no pain and no time lost from duties, after the eyes were badly crossed for eight years, they are straightened in one month.

Even yet there are some who say that such a cure is impossible. To those I wish to say: Those who operate say that the little muscle is too short and holds the eye in; it should be lengthened. If this is true, why were they not cross-eyed at birth? It is a fact that some eyes cross at an early age and some think they were born that way, while others are able to tell us what caused the trouble. This is proof positive that the muscle was once long enough, so there must be a reason for the detention of this little muscle. There surely is and I will be glad to explain it to you on my next visit, which will be Saturday, November 10, at the Foreman House. Had a Close Call.

"A dangerous surgical operation, involving the removal of a malignant ulcer, as large as my hand, from my daughter's hip, was prevented by the application of Bucklen's Arnica Salve," says A. C. Stickel, of Miletus, W. Va. "Persistent use of the salve completely cured it." Cures cuts, burns and injuries. 25c at W. R. Barton's drug store.

There are 75,000 barrels of apples in cold storage at Kansas City. These apples have been bought up by speculators at from 35 to 50 cents per bushel and they are paying 40 cents a barrel storage, so those who have to buy apples next spring will be apt to pay a pretty good price for them.
